

Go! But Where and How?

“Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, 20) teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold I am with you always, to the end of the age.” -Matthew 28:19-20

Brothers and sisters in Christ, these two verses are familiar to most of us as The Great Commission. But where should I go? What about my family? How are we to fulfill its direction as members of Bethel Presbyterian Church here in Clover, S.C.? Are each of us called to leave our lives here and travel the world attempting to fulfill the directives of this commission? Some extraordinary people do! How do I make disciples or baptize in our Lord’s name, not to mention teaching. I can’t talk to strangers in a different language, and I don’t feel prepared to teach the Word of God. Again, some extraordinary people do have these gifts and do find God’s calling on their hearts to go and serve our God in various capacities here and abroad.

The Lord gives us an opportunity to share in their labors in bringing God’s Word to all nations, which just happens to include the United States, through our strong support of the various ministry and outreach programs that we support from our local congregation here in Clover as members of the body of Christ at Bethel. But again, you might ask, how do I do that? Our mission partners covet your prayers on their behalf for strength in the Lord and wisdom, for safety in their travels, their health, and the health of their families. You can provide encouragement to them through cards or letters, through your financial support, and through warm and loving fellowship when you have the opportunity to meet and greet them.

We have hosted representatives of our various ministry outreach programs at Bethel over the past few years. But, it has been a considerable period of time now since we’ve had a larger Mission’s Conference with a number of our ministry partners present to share and provide us a report, similar to that of the apostle Paul when returning to his home church in Antioch following his mission journeys.

This year, the International Missions Committee is planning such an event. Please mark your calendars for the weekend of October 15-18, 2026, and do plan on attending! There will be more information concerning speakers and various activities in the future. Please stay tuned. We (your IMC) also request that you keep us in your prayers as we progress through the planning stages and prepare to put this event together.
